LADDERING YOUR WAY TO APPRENTICESHIPS AND TRADES

- Post Secondary education that combines paid, work-based training with technical training in a classroom or shop setting
- Apprenticeships can range from 1 to 5 years but most require 4 years to complete

Beginning Your Apprenticeship

DURING HIGHSCHOOL

- YOUTH TRAIN IN TRADES = School based training
- YOUTH WORK IN TRADES = Work placement

AFTER HIGHSCHOOL

- A Pre-apprenticeship Foundation program or training with an Employer
- Trade programs (BCIT) have continuous enrolment, waitlists should be researched. Students may want to consider writing Pre-tests in Grade 11 or 12 to enhance wait list opportunities

District Career Programs

PRE APPRENTICESHIP FOUNDATION PROGRAMS AFTER HIGHSCHOOL

What is it?

Training to prepare students for entry-level employment in a trade area of their choice.

Where can I apply?

Most schools offering trade programs have FOUNDATION programs:

- BCIT
- Kwantlen Polytechnic University
- Vancouver Community College

Apprenticeship

Upon completion of a program, students may seek employment as apprentices. Also receive their Level 1 training certification

Trades Discovery Program at BCIT for men and women
16 week training program in approximately 15 different technical and trades fields (must write pre-test in English, Math & Mechanical reasoning)

UBC will take a holistic approach to academic assessments and will consider all Grade 11 and Grade 12 courses when evaluating the competitiveness of a student's application – and emphasis will be placed on academic courses related to their intended area of study.

UBC's holistic approach will focus primarily on marks in academic courses, but will also consider breadth, rigour, and relevancy of coursework:

- To what extent has the student excelled in secondary school, as evidenced by their grades?
- To what extent has the student challenged themselves in secondary school, as evidenced by the number and academic rigour of courses completed?
- To what extent has the student taken courses in subjects that are relevant to their intended area of study at UBC?

Students can demonstrate competitiveness in a number of ways, beyond their grades:

- Challenge themselves: Show UBC breadth and rigour in their course selection, and/or take advanced courses (e.g., AP, IB, Calculus, dual credit, etc.).
- Demonstrate knowledge in their area of study: Take courses related to their intended areas of study (e.g., math and sciences courses if they're applying to Bachelor of Science).

Course planning

Choose high school courses that meet your degree requirements. Then fill out your schedule with other courses that interest you, challenge you, and are relevant to the degree you'll be applying to. In the admission requirements for your degree, you'll find a list of subject categories that you can use to help guide your choices.

Here are the kinds of courses that fall into each subject category:

- Language Arts: Courses focused on language and literacy
- Mathematics and Computation: Courses focused on numeracy, numerical methods, and symbolic computation
- Science: Courses that help us better understand our natural world
- Second Languages: All second-language courses, except Introductory Language 11 courses
- Social Studies: Courses focused on individuals, human society, and culture
- Visual and Performing Arts: Courses focused on artistic expression

If your school does not offer a wide selection of courses, or family commitments or finances have limited your ability to pursue certain academic opportunities, tell us when you apply. We'll take that into account when evaluating your application.
